"I chose Cleveland Clinic Tradition Hospital because it felt like the strongest place for me to grow as a well-rounded pharmacist. From the moment I interviewed, I could tell the staff was genuine and truly committed to fostering a supportive learning environment. That culture—combined with the opportunity to pursue electives in infectious disease and ambulatory care, my greatest areas of interest—made the decision easy and confirmed that Tradition was where I wanted to develop and train as a PGY-1 resident."

"I chose Cleveland Clinic Tradition Hospital for residency because, during both my IPPE and APPE rotations, I was welcomed into a team that was genuinely invested in my learning. The pharmacists and pharmacy technicians consistently took the time to teach, challenge, and support me. These experiences were among the most impactful of my pharmacy education and solidified my decision to pursue residency here. Training within this hospital system provides the opportunity to learn from one of the most respected healthcare institutions in the country, making Tradition Hospital the ideal environment for me to continue my professional development"
