

Physician Observer Program in Florida

Cancellation and Refund Policy

Physician Observership Program

The total tuition for the physician observer program is $900. Upon acceptance to the program, a $500 non-refundable, non-transferable processing fee will be charged for all applications in order to hold the physician observer's spot. Please note: the $500 fee covers any rotations scheduled within a 12-month period.

The remaining $400 fee will cover the tuition for the 4-week observer rotation. The tuition fee will be collected during the onboarding process, approximately 30 days prior to the start date of the observer rotation.

➤ No Refund:

- a. The physician observer does not attend orientation without informing the program manager of the Physician Observer Program in advance.
- b. The Cleveland Clinic host physician/department terminated the rotation while the physician observer is visiting because of inappropriate conduct and/or policy violations.

➤ $400 Tuition Refund:

- a. The physician observer cannot travel due to visa issues or denial at the US port of entry.
- b. Personal, family or health issues with proper notice to the program manager of the Physician Observer Program.
- c. If the Cleveland Clinic host physician/department will no longer be available during the scheduled rotation and the host physician/department and/or physician observer is not available to reschedule for a future rotation.
