

Physician Observer Program in Florida

Cancellation and Refund Policy

International Physician Observership Program

The tuition for the program is $900. A $500 non-refundable and non-transferable processing fee will be charged for all applications. A remaining $400 fee will be for the 4-weeks observer rotation. The tuition program fee will be collected during the on-boarding process prior to the start date of the observation rotation.

➤ No Refund:

- a. No show – Visitor does not show up to orientation without informing the program coordinator of the Physician Observer Program.
- b. Terminated visit by the Cleveland Clinic host physician/department while the visitor is visiting because of inappropriate visitor conduct/policy violations

➤ $400 Refund:

- a. Visitor cannot travel due to visa issues, denial of entry at the US port of entry, personal/family issues, health issues and informs the Physician Observer Program coordinator in advance.
- b. If hosting physician and/or hosting department will not be available during the scheduled timeframe or within the period the visitor applied for, and the visitor has been offered the possibility of a reschedule in the near future which the visitor declines. If hosting physician and/or hosting department offers the possibility of rescheduling outside of the observership period the visitor originally applied for and the visitor declines, a full refund is due.