

CENTER FOR CONSUMER HEALTH INFORMATION

The Center for Consumer Health Information offers internship positions to undergraduate students majoring in Community Health Education, Health Promotion, or Health Science, and to graduate students studying Public Health, Community Health Education, and Adult Learning. The students obtain knowledge and experience in areas including but not limited to: planning, implementing, and evaluating free public health seminars, writing patient education handouts to support local seminars or for web-based world-wide education, researching and designing waiting room health-oriented posters, and working in a walk-in full staff Patient and Family Health Education Center.

For further information, please contact Arlene Silver-Cook, M.Ed., MBA at 216/444-3054