

How to schedule your second COVID-19 vaccine dose

Congratulations on receiving your first COVID-19 vaccine!

You have taken a key first step to protect yourself, your family and your community from COVID-19.

It is important that you come back for your second dose. Only after the second dose will you get the maximum protection offered by the vaccine.

We encourage you to take steps today to ensure that you receive your second dose at the optimal time. These guidelines will help you schedule your second dose.

Be sure to get the right vaccine for your second dose

The vaccine you received today was made either by Pfizer or by Moderna. While both vaccines are highly effective, they are not interchangeable. It is important that you receive both doses from the same manufacturer. Please return to the place where you received your first dose so that you receive the same brand for your second dose.

To schedule your vaccine appointment using MyChart, log in at mychart.clevelandclinic.org and follow these steps.

Your ticket will display on the homepage when you log in. Click Schedule Now.

Available locations will display. Select the site where you received your first dose. Click Continue.

When to receive your second dose

If you received the Pfizer COVID vaccine today, please schedule a second dose in 3 weeks.

If you received the Moderna COVID vaccine today, please schedule a second dose in 4 weeks.

However, if you are unable to schedule your second dose at these intervals, the CDC says there is no maximum interval between doses and the series does not need to be restarted if the second dose is given later.
