Primary care

It's important to us that you stay well. Regular visits with a primary care provider (PCP) can be beneficial to your overall health and wellness.

Why should YOU have a PCP?

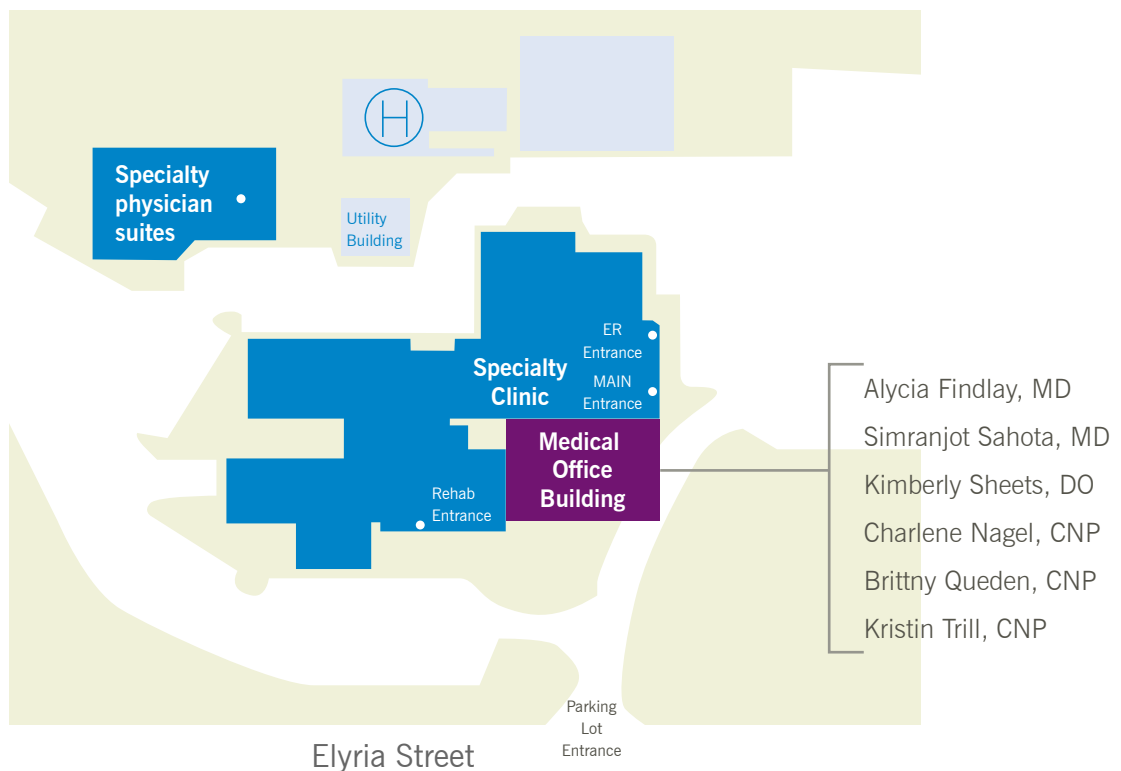

Prevention - Routine check-ups can help in early detection of more serious conditions.

Comfort - Once you have a relationship with your PCP you should feel comfortable talking to them about all your medical concerns.

Physician guidance and history - Your PCP will be able to treat your illness or guide you through treatment. They will also know your medical history which will help them provide preventative and interventional care.
