What was the purpose of this study?

What did you find regarding the role of patient pain in the association between inpatient opioid receipt and long-term use?

What prompted your study of risk of long-term use following opioid receipt during a hospitalization?

How do you explain your finding of an increased risk of long-term use among patients with C. difficile infection compared to those without a positive test for C. difficile?

What were the main challenges you faced in your study, if any, and how did you overcome them?

What were the main limitations of your study, if any, and how might they impact the interpretation of your findings?

What were the main strengths of your study, if any, and how might they contribute to future research?

What are the implications of your findings for clinical practice?

What are the implications of your findings for public health and policy?

What are the implications of your findings for future research?

What are the implications of your findings for the treatment and management of C. difficile infection?