Overview

About the Conference

The S.H.I.E.L.D. Conference (Safety in Healthcare through Information, Education and Learning Development) will cover a variety of current safety topics that address violence in healthcare, disaster preparation, drug epidemics and general security. Attendees will have dedicated time to view more than 15 poster presentations and network with experts on these topics:

- Learn strong tactics for dealing with difficult situations and how to ensure patient and caregiver safety.
- Hear from experts about the changing patient populations and social factors impacting safety.
- Explore ways to minimize risk for harm and to effectively de-escalate situations.
- See how Cleveland Clinic pursues best practices in safety, prevention and critical response to prepare our staff and secure those in our care.

Who Should Attend?

All caregivers are welcome. If your work is impacted by changing social dynamics in our patient populations, please plan to attend.
