Keynote Address
Memory Fitness
Kathryn Kilpatrick, MA, CCC/SLP
Speech-language Pathologist, Geriatric Communication Consultant, Memory Fitness Specialist

Kathryn is a national motivational speaker and the author of more than 35 products. Her experience as a speech-language pathologist for four decades, primarily in the area of home healthcare, led to the development of Communication Connection (www.connectionsincommunication.com) and Memory Fitness Matters (www.memoryfitnessmatters.com). She has written articles and blogs on eldercare concerns for ElderCarelink and has created a weekly memory fitness blog series with memory tips for all ages.

For decades, Kathryn has been helping those families who have loved ones with Alzheimer’s disease or a related dementia to enhance the quality of the journey they walk together as she did with her mother. She provides training on person-directed care and creating lifestyle care plans, as well as private consultations so others can learn how to meet a person where they are currently able to function to maximize communication, safety and the time they spend together.

Kathryn also provides programs on popular topics including Memory Fitness Matters, Upgrading Your Memory Fitness Routine, and How to Create a 7-Day Memory Plan. She will be introducing a local cable TV show on Memory Matters for all Ages in the fall of 2013.

Plenary Lecture
Sexual Issues in Long-Term Care
Erin Rader, APN, CNS
Clinical Nurse Specialist, Adult Psychiatry and Mental Health, MetroHealth Medical Center and Cleveland Clinic Lorain Institute

Erin’s nursing career has focused on geriatric psychiatry since 1989. She acts as a psychiatric consultant to select long-term care facilities for patients, and develops and executes advanced and individualized care to select patients, families and caregivers with complex needs in the long-term care environment. She collaborates with psychiatrists, geriatricians and nurse practitioners to assess diagnose and treat cognitive decline and mental illness in the elderly.

Erin has been active on several community committees including the professional advisory board of the Cleveland Alzheimer’s Association. Her research and publications focus on several areas including geriatric depression, dementia and geriatric trauma.

She has served in teaching roles for several universities and organizations, including the Francis Payne Bolton School of Nursing at Case Western Reserve University, Kent State University School of Nursing, and the Cleveland Alzheimer’s Association. In addition, she provides education and acts as a resource for long-term care staff, family, healthcare learners and community members.
